PARIS, BOURBON COUNTY, KENTUCKY, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1918

BOURBON PUTS THE UNITED WAR WORK CAMPAIGN OVER.

"Well done, thou good and faithful servant," was the message conveyed to the United War Workers in the city and county by Chairman Henry A. Power, when the result of the work had been announced, and they were told that Bourbon county had again "made good" and upheld a reputation that has not been excelled by any county in the State.

With reports available from every precinct in the county and the final tabulations completed it was announced that the county had raised more than its required quota, making the figures read $52,475.57. The result in the district, composed of the counties of Bourbon, Harrison, Nicholas and Fleming, with a maximum quota of $72,937.00, was a total subscription of $98,525.57. Of the amount raised in Paris and Bourbon county the maximum for the United War Work campaign was $42,547.50, with an additional $10,000 added for the Bourbon County Y. M. C. A., making the maximum oversubscription for the War Work $27.07.

Bourbon county's prompt passing of the figures representing her quota in this U. W. W. campaign is an evidence of the unflinching spirit of the city and the county in the prosecution of the war. There is a carpenter's axiom that no job is finished until the last nail has been driven. The last nail has been driven in the campaign here, and the work has been gloriously finished and well done.

The public has responded generously, gallantly, to every call during the war. It will respond as well to every call incident to the winding up of the after-the-war work of the United States. Bourbon county people who are wealthy have been liberal, but Parisians who are not wealthy, and to whom response has meant financial denial have also shown a fine spirit of liberality. To the driving of the last nail this county was on the job. That is the sort of good American county we have.

DR. KELLER RESUMES POSITION AS HEALTH OFFICER

Dr. A. H. Keller, who sometime ago temporarily laid aside the office of City Health Officer, in order to assist the Government in war work at Nitro, W. Va., has returned and resumed his former official duties.

At a meeting recently of the City Board of Health, Dr. Keller was re-elected to his old position, which had been occupied lately by Dr. C. G. Daugherty.

The people of Paris have cause to congratulate themselves upon the Dr. Keller's return to his post as Health Officer. In years past he has always been one of the first to take steps looking to safeguarding the public health. He has performed his onerous duty fearlessly and faithfully. He has often personal interests were sacrificed, and has, all in all, made of the most conscientious public servants Paris has ever had.

During his stay in West Virginia, where he was stationed in the Emergency Hospital, under Government direction, Dr. Keller made a special study of the causes and treatment of influenza, and is formulating plans for stamping out the disease which at one time threatened to assume epidemic form here.

GOVERNOR STANLEY ISSUES THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

Governor Stanley Saturday issued a Thanksgiving proclamation calling upon the people of this State to observe Thursday, November 28, not only as a day on which to give thanks for another fruitful harvest, but for the successful termination of the greatest of all wars.

The proclamation follows: "To the People of Kentucky, Greetings:

"Whereas, It has pleased the 'Giver of every good and perfect gift' to bless the labor of our hands with another fruitful harvest; and

"Whereas, We have special occasion for reverent Thanksgiving for the successful termination of the greatest of all wars, for the triumph of our army in this colossal conflict, and for the prospect of an honorable and an enduring peace; and

"Whereas, Millions of anxious hearts are gladdened by the anticipation of the return of loved ones from scenes of danger and of death—

"Now, therefore, I, A. O. Stanley, Governor of this Commonwealth, in grateful remembrance of the multitudinous blessings bestowed upon us, do set apart Thursday, November the twenty-eighth, for a day of thanksgiving and recommend its appropriate observance.

"In testimony whereof, I, as Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, aforesaid, have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the Commonwealth of Kentucky to be affixed at Frankfort, this, twenty-third day of November, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and eighteen and in the one hundred and twenty-seventh year of the Commonwealth."

NO SHORTAGE OF COAL HERE THIS WINTER.

Information comes from Washington, D. C., to the effect that there will be no shortage of coal such as was experienced in Paris and elsewhere last winter. This should be good news to everyone. It was pointed out that the war is practically over and railroads operating under Federal control will eliminate transportation confusion and conflicts.

GERMANY CEASES AS A NAVAL POWER.

Germany as a naval power ceased to exist Friday.

The heart of her mighty fleet—14 ships of the line, seven light cruisers and 50 destroyers—surrendered to an armada of British, American and French vessels, the greatest fighting force that ever stood out at sea.

The minutely-detailed program of submission laid down by the commander of the British fleet was carried out strictly according to plan.

The German warships, strung out in a single column almost 20 miles long, appeared at the rendezvous at the appointed time and were led into the Firth of Forth between twin columns of Allied ships which overlapped the Germans at each end.

The enemy craft are now anchored in the Firth, under guard as prisoners.

A surrender on such a gigantic scale has no precedent in naval history. Although the wonderful naval spectacle was the same as a peace time review, and evoked little enthusiasm, the haze blotting out the horizon, the Americans and their officers could scarcely credit the evidence of their eyes; it was an event which shattered all naval traditions and ideals.

Animated by the spirit of Lawrence's "Don't Give Up the Ship," and Nelson's "England Expects Every Man to Do His Duty," the witnesses could not conceive of such an inglorious fate as that which the great enemy sea force was submitting.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—One German destroyer, while on its way across the North Sea with the other ships of the German high seas fleet, to surrender to the allies, struck a mine. The warship was badly damaged and sunk.

The enemy fleet was composed of nine battle ships, five battle cruisers, seven light cruisers and 50 destroyers.

All the vessels will be taken to the Scapa Flow in the middle of the Orkney Islands, off the northern coast of Scotland. The Scapa Flow is a small island and has numerous good harbors and roadsteads.

Describing the surrender of the German warships to the Commander in Chief of the grand fleet, Sir David Beatty, correspondents say that after all the German ships had been taken over the British Admiral passed through the line on the Queen Elizabeth, every allied vessel being manned and greeting the Admiral and the flagship with loud and ringing cheers.

The British grand fleet put to sea in two single lines, six miles apart, so formed as to enable the surrendering fleet to pass up the center.

The leading ship of the German line was sighted between 9 and 10 o'clock in the morning. It was the Seydlitz, flying the German naval ensign.

The point of the rendezvous for the allied and German sea forces was between 30 and 40 miles east of May Island, opposite the Firth of Forth.

The fleet, which witnessed the surrender, was composed of 400 ships, including 60 dreadnoughts, 50 light cruisers and nearly 200 destroyers. Admiral Sir David Beatty, commander of the grand fleet, was on the Queen Elizabeth.

ARE YOU CARRYING ENOUGH SHARES?

Are you carrying as many shares in the Building & Loan Association as you can afford? Doubtless there are many share holders who are carrying five or ten shares who could easily carry two or three times that number. No other form of investment pays any better rate of interest than shares in the Bourbon Building & Loan Association.

Our new series opens Saturday, December 7.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS.

A machine in which four brothers, named Garrison, were riding, turned turtle on the Jackstown pike, near Paris. The driver losing control of the steering gear the machine swerved to the side of the road and turned completely over. The occupants, beyond a severe shaking-up, were uninjured. The machine was brought to Paris to a local garage for repairs.

While returning to their home near Paris, a machine in which Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Taylor were riding, accidentally struck the rear wheel of a buggy that was going in the same direction. The wheel was torn off. The occupant, a young woman whose name was not learned, clung gamely to the lines and prevented her horse from running off. She was uninjured, and was was brought back to Paris in the Taylor machine.

Near the corner of High and Seventh streets, a machine driven by Mr. M. J. Sweeney, from which Mrs. Thompson Tarr had alighted but a few moments before, was struck by an outgoing interurban car, and badly wrecked. Mr. Sweeney escaped with a few slight bruises. The automobile was owned by Mrs. Tarr. Mr. Sweeney was given first-aid by Dr. W. C. Useery, near whose home the accident happened, and was able to proceed homeward.

FUEL ADMINISTRATOR WARNS AGAINST FUEL WASTE

The Federal Fuel Administration in regulating the use in cities, villages and towns, of lights generated or produced by the use of fuel has announced that all orders previously made are set aside and establishes the following regulations, effective until further or other order of regulation in the premises:

The extravagant or wasteful use of light generated or produced by the use of consumption of coal, oil, gas or other fuel for illuminating purposes in the streets, parks or other public places of any city, village or town, or for other out-door illumination, public or private, is hereby prohibited.

The use of light generated or produced by the use or consumption of coal, oil, gas or other fuel for illuminating or displaying advertisements, announcements or signs on the exterior of any building or any billboard or other structures for the display of advertisement announcements or signs and the use of light for the external ornamentation of any building or structure or for illuminating or displaying any window in any shop or store when such shop or store is not open for business shall be entirely discontinued on Monday and Tuesday of each week in the Commonwealth of Kentucky, provided, however, that nothing in this regulation shall be construed to prohibit the maintenance in any shop or store window or any lights required by State law or a municipal ordinance or for the purpose of safety.

Any person violating or refusing to conform to this regulation shall be liable to the penalties in the act of Congress approved August 10, 1917.

BOND PROFITEERING COSTS HIS POSITION.

After he had admitted purchasing for $1,200 to $1,400 worth of Liberty Bonds at from 80 to 91 cents on the dollar, G. L. Benson, of Holdenville, Okla., chairman of the Hughes County Council of Defense, was deposed from office and dismissed from the executive committee of the county council by the Oklahoma State Council of Defense. The council resolved that any person who purchases Liberty Bonds at less than their market value is injuring the sale of future bonds and doing an unpatriotic act. The State Council requested that its action be given widest publicity and that purchasers be given to understand that profiteering in these bonds will not be tolerated.

GET OVERSEAS CHRISTMAS LABELS AT ONCE.

The period of mailing Christmas parcels to soldiers overseas has been extended to include November 30, says a statement issued to-day by Lake Division Red Cross Headquarters.

The Red Cross issues this statement inasmuch as Red Cross chapters throughout the country have been assisting the War and Postoffice Departments in their plan to get one Christmas parcel to each soldier overseas. This Red Cross assistance has consisted of providing the cartons for the Christmas parcels and inspecting and wrapping the parcels for shipment.

November 20 was to have been the final date upon which the Red Cross and the Postoffice Department would accept these Christmas packages for shipment overseas. The period was extended to include November 30 when reports from all over the country indicated that but small per cent of the Christmas parcel labels, given to soldiers overseas for mailing home to their nearest relative, have reached this country. Without one of these labels the Red Cross and Postoffice Department cannot accept Christmas parcels for soldiers abroad.

If by November 21 the nearest relative of a soldier had not received from that soldier a Christmas parcel label Red Cross chapters will supply one label only for each soldier, taking an affidavit from the recipient of the emergency label worded as follows:

The undersigned hereby makes application to forward (Organization) Expeditionary Forces, a Christmas package.

The undersigned hereby declares that he or she is the nearest living relative in the United States of the proposed recipient; that he or she has not received a label from abroad, and that should label be received, it would not be used, and that to the best of his or her knowledge and belief ONLY ONE Christmas parcel will be sent to the proposed recipient.

Signed

The Lake Division announces that enough extra Christmas parcels have been provided to take care of all soldiers overseas who had no relatives nor friends to whom to send the Christmas labels.

LIMIT ON AMOUNT OF COAL STORED LIFTED.

Regulations limiting the amount of bituminous coal stored by consumers were lifted Saturday by National Fuel Administrator Garfield in conformity with the cancellation by the War Industries Board of its preference list. Any industry or domestic consumer may now store all the bituminous desired.

IN THE SERVICE OF THEIR COUNTRY.

Corp. Nathan Bayless, formerly of Paris, who is a member of the U. S. Veterans Corps, formerly stationed at Camp Greenleaf, in South Carolina, has written to friends in Paris announcing his safe arrival overseas with a detachment of the American Expeditionary Force.

Bronze medals, commemorating victory in the war and the valor of the American forces will be given every American officer, sailor and soldier, under a resolution offered by Senator Pittman, of Nevada, unanimously ordered reported favorably by the Senate Committee on Naval and Army Affairs.

Mrs. Clennie Dunigan, who accompanied the body of her husband, Private Clennie Dunigan, from Ft. Douglas, near Salt Lake City, Utah, to Paris, will return next Sunday. Mrs. Dunigan is engaged in the wireless telegraphy branch of the service at Ft. Douglas, where her husband died. She is a sister of Mr. W. O. Pennington, of Paris, who is in the U. S. Navy.

Lieut. Lawrence Lavin, who is a guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Lavin, in this city, received a message from the War Department asking him if he desired to remain in the service at Camp Gordon, Georgia, where he had been stationed for some months as bayonet instructor. Lieut. Lavin wired his acceptance of the offer and returned yesterday to Camp Gordon to resume his duties.

A letter from Corp. Sherman R. Snapp, who is in the Personnel Office at Camp Lewis, in Washington, stated that he had successfully passed the examination for admittance to the Officers' Training Corps at Freemont, Calif., but that the signing of the armistice between the Allies and Germany caused the cancellation of work at the camp. He will remain at Camp Lewis until the work of mustering out has been concluded.

Private Evan Mann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morton E. Mann, of near Shawhan, who was mentioned in official reports last August as missing, is now reported in the casualty list as having been wounded in action overseas. Young Mann was a volunteer in Co. B, of the Second Regiment, which was then doing guard duty here. He was sent to Camp Shelby, and was later sent overseas with the first detachments of the American Expeditionary Forces. The message announcing Mann's wounding indicated that he was in an army hospital in France or in England.

Mrs. Bettie Melvaine, of Paris, received a letter Saturday from her grandson, Miller Casey, formerly of Paris, in which he detailed graphically his participation in one of the recent big battles in France. Mr. Casey stated that he had been wounded in one leg by shrapnel. He was in a Base Hospital, but was getting along very nicely. He said the Red Cross nurses had been so good to him that he felt like blessing the very name of Red Cross. Private Casey is a member of Co. K, 12th Infantry, American Expeditionary Force. He had not heard from his brothers Jack and Billie Casey. Private Casey closed his letter with the injunction, "Don't worry about me when you read this, for I am in good hands."

Mr. William P. Walton, Jr., of Lexington, well-known in Paris, where he has been a frequent attendant at social functions, writes to friends here that while at Camp Stuart, near Newport News, Va., his regiment had been already issued their overseas equipment and was en board a transport ready to sail when they received orders countermanding the voyage. He expressed great disappointment over not being able to go overseas, and that the entire command seemed to be very much "put out" over it. Young Walton, who received his training at Fortress Monroe, Va., in the artillery division, was later transferred to Camp Stuart, where he is a member of Battery B, 38th United States Artillery.

INJURED BOY WILL RECOVER.

One of the most remarkable cases of recovery from gunshot wounds is that of David Francis Freeman, a young colored boy of North Middletown. While fooling with a shotgun at his home some time ago the weapon was accidentally discharged, the load tearing away both frontal lobes of the boy's brain. The brain was left exposed.

His attending physician, Dr. Chas. G. Daugherty, stated before he left recently for Rochester, Minn., that the boy would recover. He is at the Massie Memorial Hospital in this city. His case is said to be one of the most wonderful in medical history.

U. S. FARM LOAN BUREAU WORKS IN KENTUCKY.

Mr. Myron A. Waterman, special representative of the Federal Farm Loan Bureau, Washington, D. C., in the work of organizing National Farm Loan Associations, is working in the District of the Federal Land Bank of Louisville. He has recently completed a tour in a number of counties in western Kentucky, where the farmers have manifested considerable interest in the formation of National Farm Loan Associations. He visited the counties of Logan, Todd, Christian, Trigg, Fulton and Union and everywhere he was received with enthusiasm by the farmers and citizens in general.

Mr. Waterman is now making a tour through Central Kentucky where many inquiries have been made to the Federal Land Bank, as to the method of organizing National Farm Loan Associations. He will hold meetings at Shelbyville, Frankfort, Versailles, Lexington, Georgetown, Paris, Winchester, Nicholasville and Mt. Sterling. A number of prominent men have written letters to this Bank and the first meeting will be held at Shelbyville on November 25, at the Shelbyville court house with Mr. Hart Wallace presiding. Men of equal prominence in the other Bluegrass counties will preside at the meetings following the Shelbyville meeting.

Already there have been sixty-six National Farm Loan Associations chartered in the State of Kentucky and the prospects of many more being organized within the near future are very bright. Approximately one thousand farmers from the State of Kentucky have secured loans up to this date around $2,000,000.00 and many more applications are now pending in the Federal Land Bank of Louisville, along with the prospects of an increased number and amount during the winter. Mr. Waterman states he is greatly pleased to find the bankers of Kentucky heartily cooperating in the usefulness of the system.

Mr. Waterman will speak at the court house in Paris, Saturday, Nov. 30, at 2 o'clock p. m.

LOCAL DRAFT BOARDS ORDERED TO SEAL PAPERS.

The Bourbon County Draft Board is in receipt of a bulletin from Major Henry F. Rhodes, of Frankfort, Chief of the Selective Service Department for Kentucky, stating that, in view of the armistice and the consequent temporary abatement of the immediate urgency for reclassification, local Boards should finish the principal work remaining.

On completion of the classification, the bulletin reads, which must not be later than December 10, they must be sealed and in fact subject to the further orders of the Government, issued through the Provost Marshal General.

After receipt of this notice, reads the order, no access shall be given any person or persons to the records and no information concerning them shall be given out except by written instructions of the Government, issued through the office of the Provost Marshal General.

It is from these records, say the instructions, that the history of the war must in great part be compiled, and from them also must come information as to the man-power of the country in case of any further or future war. It was said yesterday that the eighteen-year-old youths have been a little bit slow in filling their questionnaires, and unless they do so they will be known as delinquents, so the wise thing to do is to go to the Board and get a clean bill.

RED CROSS TEA ROOM.

The Red Cross Tea Room has enjoyed its usual patronage, and it is with the greatest regret that the people of Paris hear the service will be discontinued on or about the first of next month. The ladies in charge of the Tea Room ask the public in view of this being the last week the Room will be used, to remember them with as liberal donations of edibles, fowls, eggs, etc., as they can spare.

The following is the menu for today (Tuesday): Cream of celery soup; chicken pot pie, peas in timbales, baked potatoes, hot rolls, fifty cents; molded fruit salad; fruit Charlotte; coffee, tea, milk.

For to-morrow (Wednesday) the menu will be as follows: Cream of chicken soup, with rice; broiled tenderloin; asparagus on toast; potatoes au gratin; hot biscuit; tomato aspic; individual jam roll; coffee, tea, milk.

On next Sunday night the ladies will serve a six-o'clock turkey dinner, one that will be truly appetizing and conform strictly to the old-fashioned Kentucky way. This dinner will be served at seventy-five cents.

The Tea Room is in charge this week of the following ladies: Miss Elizabeth Steele, Chairman; Misses Martha Ferguson, Nancy Griffith, Virginia Wetherall, Elizabeth Embry, Laura Steele, Mrs. James Thompson, Mrs. Watson Judy, Mrs. W. P. Vann-Meter, Jr.

FORMER RESIDENT INJURED

While cranking an automobile at Mascot, Ohio, where he is in business, Mr. Lon Haley, formerly of Paris, had his right wrist broken, when the crank slipped off. Mrs. Haley wrote to her father, Mr. Samuel Ewalt, in Paris, that she was just recovering from an attack of influenza. Mr. Haley was at one time a passenger conductor on the Louisville & Nashville.

The Gallant Uncle Sam.

That there is nobody in this nation too big to apologize when they find themselves to be in the wrong is the lesson to be derived from Uncle Sam, himself, in the instance of his voluntary amende honorable to Wilson & Company, Chicago packers.
A few months ago there was a good deal of a sensation when the news columns of papers all over the country carried a story that an attempt was being made to unload bad meat on the army. Visions of "embalmed beef" and other legacies of former war profiteering floated before the vision of the American public. In the present instance, Wilson & Company were the accused, and a Government Bureau was made responsible for the accusation.
But quite happily, our domestic democracy has become progressive, and no matter what may be opinions regarding it with reference to this world's troubles, it has got beyond the point, in industrial and economic affairs where the accused is prejudged "fit to be hung" whenever the Government gets suspicious and demands a showdown.
Thomas E. Wilson has been featured as one of the aggressive young captains of industry, and in view of the fact that he has flung his banners into the country's trade winds, labeled all over with the words, "The Wilson Label Protects Your Table," the accusing finger, pointed by Uncle Sam, coupled with the charges about "bad meat," very naturally caused a storm to gather, and its dark clouds threatened for a time to be-dim the beacon lights that mark the whereabouts of the Wilson packing establishment.
The Company immediately demanded a full and complete investigation of the charges, and the Government replied: "All right, Mr. Packers, we'll give you a square deal," and it was also added rather significantly:
"We'll give you the limit, too; if we fasten this charge on you!" "Go to it, please, as fast as you can—you can't proceed too fast for us," returned the gentleman that we hear spoken of in Washington as Tom Wilson.
So it followed that the Federal Trade Commission went to the bottom of its own accusal, and now it is given out that the Commission finds that the Chicago concern is freed of the bad meat charges.
Uncle Sam, like the true gentleman we know him to be, has frankly told the Wilson Company: "Sorry, boys, I misjudged you—but you know that I have a lot of people to watch nowadays, and last spring I gave you the once over, and thought you were trying to slip something across on me; so I spoke to you pretty sharply; but you came right back and demanded a square deal—and everybody is just getting that same treatment from me. Your case is closed, now I am better busy with other matters, so get out, some Em-perors and Kings are waiting in the ante-room to apologize. By the way, though, keep right along pushing things for your Uncle Sam out there at Chicago." Surely Uncle Sam is a fine, square old gentleman!

Back To Natural Pursuits.

One of the big tasks at Washington is to prevent disruption among the institutions that have been organized on a war basis. Secretary Baker has taken up with college officials associated with the Government in training camp and educational pursuits as quickly as possible. It may be that the training work will continue longer at some colleges than others, while the readjustments are being made. The future of various army divisions will furnish problems for the officials for a long time to come. Just how fast the cantonments will be emptied cannot be definitely

THE UNKNOWN DEAD.

The following beautiful poem, written by Kentucky's poet laureate, Maj. Henry T. Stanton, of Frankfort, was read at a Memorial Day exercise held in the Paris Cemetery many years ago. Maj. Stanton was a native of Maysville, and was at one time editor of the Maysville Bulletin, and for many years before his death was editor of the Frankfort Yeoman.
Its publication at this time will not, we believe, be amiss:

The Unknown Dead.

These are the graves of a chivalrous dead
Who went to the fray with confident tread,
Fought in the column and fell at the head.

Not of the fuller-fed holiday band,
Moved by the beck of a bountiful hand,
Out of the northward with banner and brand.

Not of the many who came for pay,
Out of the ships from lands away,
To trample the lines of living gray.

But these are the men of a martyr's make,
Who folding their arms stood firm at the stake,
And died in their pride for principle's sake.

Some from the glen and some from the glade,
Some from the line of the sea's upraid,
Growth of the land and under it laid.

What matter if only a simple stone,
Hidden in shade and grass o'ergrown,
Is scribed with the desolate word, "unknown."

Not for the glory of monuments white,
Not for the after-told story of right,
Entered they into the desperate fight.

Not for the pomp of a funeral train,
Not for a trumpeted rite o'er the slain,
Bowed they down to the battle plain.

Theirs to strike with a nobler sense;
Theirs to drive the invaders hence;
Theirs to die in the land's defence.

Gather your blossoms and cast them here,
Let the laurel crown and the wreath be near,
Where every man was a monarch's peer.

Never a mother to come and lean
With sacred tears and sighs between,
And hallow the sod of the hillock green.

Never a wife to cling and weep
About the stones where the ivies creep,
With a life too sad and a love too deep.

Fresh with tears of the golden dawn, Scatter the flowers the green graves on—
The great are dead and good are gone.

Far in the South a mother may say:
"I know that blossoms will fall to-day
Over the grave of my boy in gray."

A sister may turn and wonder in vain:
"Where does he sleep on the wide, wide plain—Where on his breast was the battle stain?"

Gather your flowers and strew them here,
For the hearts are sore and the eyes are sear
Of the mother fond and the sister dear.

Be mother and sister and all to these
Who sleep so far from the homeland trees
That sigh to-day in the Southern breeze.

Gather your flowers and see them shed
Over the graves from foot to head—
Honor the dust of the "unknown dead."

foretold at this time. A great resumption of private construction and manufacturing, is at hand and thousands of skilled laborers will be needed in all parts of the country for this work. Of course there is need for a great many to finish the work in Europe, but it is anticipated that a considerable part of the men overseas will not be in any great hurry to return home. Therefore it seems reasonable to suppose that a system will be worked out which will permit of the boys electing as to whether they shall return to the United States at once or remain in Europe during the coming months. While it is a little premature to predict just exactly what will be done with the men in cantonments, still it is clear that the administration will move carefully, but as speedily as possible in the matter of releasing the boys from service in order that industrial disturbances may not ensue, while at the same time there is evident anxiety to release the men in the service just as rapidly as it can be done. To what extent soldiers will be sent abroad to relieve those who have served in battles does not appear to have been determined on with any definiteness.

Where Is The Money Coming From?

The American Federation of Labor is going on record very emphatically in insisting that during "reconstruction," and ever thereafter, there must be no reduction of wages. At the same time the whole country apparently agrees that the inflation of prices should come to an early end.
Among those who have their necks in a noose are the public utility operators, as they have been compelled to meet the new wage increases, but have not been able to change their own charges for service because of franchises granted to them under conditions that have become almost archaic. The suggestion has been made that the savings banks of the country should be permitted to make loans to the utility companies. It is very likely that legislation along these lines will be asked for. The utility companies are up a stump for revenues, and if the savings banks are permitted to loan on their securities the results will doubtless be beneficial and operate for the general good.

This is another one of the "reconstruction" problems that has come to light—and the adoption of some such plans may do a good deal towards stemming the socialistic agitation in favor of general public ownership.

McAdoo's Strong Arm.

Whenever it has been necessary to push aside the legislative and other obstructions that prevented him from having a free hand in the administration of railway affairs Mr. McAdoo has invariably mapped out his own course, and he rarely fails to go over the top. This has just been illustrated by the manner in which he has finally straightened out the affairs of the express business. The latter activity is an essential to railroad operation, but even though a consolidation of all the companies in the express business was made; the questions of rates, wages and administration got tangled up in the Interstate Commerce Commission and elsewhere.

Mr. McAdoo found that he must pursue an independent course in order to keep the American Railway Express Company from running hopelessly behind. He secured a proclamation by the President, which completely absorbed the consolidated express business and assigned the operation of it directly to the Railroad Administrator. The "short-cut" Mr.
McAdoo elected to follow will allow the Director General to initiate rates for the express company which will be higher than at present, but which will make it possible to advance wages of employees about $12,000,- 000. The employees have assumed an insistent attitude for some because of the fact that they were underpaid in comparison with the other branches of the railroad forces. The express company and the railroad administration were evidently agreed that the best course to be pursued was the one which has been adopted.

The most disquieting thing about the German situation is the portals

ABOUT CROUP.

If your children are subject to croup, or if you have reason to fear their being attacked by that disease, you should procure a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and study the directions for use; so that in case of an attack you will know exactly what course to pursue. This is a favorable and very successful remedy for croup, and it is important that you observe the directions carefully.

A CHILD GETS CROSS, SICK AND FEVERISH WHEN CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! If Tongue is Coated Clean Little Liver and Bowels.

If your little one's tongue is coated it is a sure sign the stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When your child is cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; if breath is bad, stomach sour, system full of cold, throat sore, or if feverish, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative."
Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given to-day saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine made by "California Fig Syrup Company." (adv)

short time, and since taking two bot-

LETTERS FROM BOURBON COUNTY SOLDIERS AND SAILORS

The following letter was received recently by Miss Aimee Woods, of Paris, from her brother, Baldwin Woods, who is a member of the Barrow Base Hospital Unit No. 40, now established near Hants, England, and of which a number of other Bourbon county boys are members. The letter, which was dated October 31, follows:

"On Active Service With
"American Expeditionary Force,
"October 31, 1918.
"My Dear Sister:

"I received your letter to-day and you know that I was certainly glad to hear from you. I hadn't received a letter from home for three weeks and when your letter came, I had to throw up my hat and shout for joy. I also had a letter from Brother, and from Julia and Bradley.

"I wish you could see all our men in their overseas uniforms, long trousers, roll collars and belts around their waists. I haven't received mine yet, but that is the way the men are dressed. Some of the men who have been in France have them. I guess we will be getting them pretty soon.

"I am in a ward at night by myself. Some of the men under my care can't move, as they have a leg shot off or face wounded. I think General Sherman was exactly right when he said "War is hell." It's nothing else. But I don't think it is going to last much longer, as Austria-Hungary has laid down, and the Germans are on the verge of starvation, and facing revolution in their own country. I sincerely hope it won't be very long until somebody or something gets the Kaiser and gets him where he never can plot any more murder and trouble.

"How are all the boys in Paris? I suppose many of them are still waiting or expecting to be called into the service or at least into the draft. I guess by the time you get this it will be Thanksgiving, and all will be having a good big feed. Gee, whiz! but I certainly would like to be there with you! I would surely enjoy sitting down to a good old-fashioned American dinner again.

"Contribute all you can, for we certainly do need it over here. I have some fellows who have been sleeping on the ground for the past five months, and one of them said he certainly was glad to see a civilized bed again. I tell you they have done their duty and should be given a lot of credit. There is also a medical man in our ward who was in a base hospital in France, but they sent him out on the field. He is shot up pretty badly. Said they shot at him with machine guns. The Red Cross that is on his sleeve was caked with blood when he was brought to us. There is another fellow in the bed next to him. He said he would do anything the boy asked of him, as the boy carried him off the field. Said his partner was hit between the eyes, but managed to carry him a few feet, when he dropped down and died. You certainly can tell the difference between a fellow that has been over there and the fellow who hasn't. I would rather wait on a fellow that has been over there than one who hasn't, because a wounded man just grinds his teeth when I go to ease his pain. I have one patient who cries every time I go to rub his back with

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

If you have a bad taste in your mouth, tongue coated, appetite poor, lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, troubled with undigested foods, you should take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief, so you can eat what you like. At 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

HOLD YOUR LIBERTY BONDS

Some get-rich-quick concerns are endeavoring to persuade patriotic Liberty Bond holders, whom they know will not sell outright their Liberty Bonds, to turn over their Liberty Bonds to these companies as security for a loan and with the money thus borrowed purchase their stock in their companies.

A Liberty Loan Bond is the safest investment in the world, and a prudent man will very carefully investigate any effort to induce him to exchange it for less safe investment. This lending one money on Liberty bonds as security to purchase stock in the lender's company is in many cases only a thinly disguised method of exchanging stock of doubtful value for Liberty Bonds of unquestioned value.

It is a good business and it is patriotism to hold your Liberty Bonds.

WHAT'S TO BE DONE WITH EX-KAISER BILL?

According to information reaching Washington there is strong sentiment in certain quarters of the Entente governments in favor of insisting that William Hohenzollern and his son, the former Crown Prince of Germany shall be compelled to make their residence at some place remote from German territory. It is likely also that there will be equally strong insistence that no son or brother of the former German Emperor shall be permitted to reside in Germany.

Nothing has yet appeared to indicate a disposition on the part of any of the governments at war with Germany to provide unusual punishment for the former Kaiser and former Crown Prince. The feeling exists, however, that it should be made impossible for them to carry on intrigue against the effort to demoralize Germany with a view to re-establishing the Hohenzollern dynasty.

The suggestion that the former Kaiser should be kept under guard on a remote island, as was Napoleon, has not attracted attention apparently among those who will have a say in the ultimate disposition in the former Kaiser's person. In connection with the suggestion one of the places mentioned for the confinement of the former Kaiser is the Island of Heligoland with the guard composed of soldiers of the allied and American governments.

It is taken for granted that the matter of imposing punishment on the Kaiser and leading members of the autocratic group at Berlin which brought on the war and were responsible for German atrocities, will be discussed by the representatives of the allied governments of a peace treaty with Germany. So far, however, no definite suggestion on this subject appears to have been given consideration.

WOMEN'S ACTIVITIES.

At Red Cross Sewing Rooms.
Wednesday—Woman's Bible Class,
Christian Church.
Thursday—Jewish Circle.

Election of Officers Postponed.
The election of officers for the local Red Cross scheduled for Monday afternoon was postponed to Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 in the County Court room.

U. S. Prisoners Mistreated.
The Germans before the armistice was signed made a practice of stealing the clothing from Americans arriving at prison camps at Limburg, Darmstadt and Giessen and giving them wooden sabots in place of their boots. The American Red Cross which shipped clothing to replace that lost in this way by the Americans protested to the German authorities but they replied that the equipment of soldiers in captivity was regarded as booty. Complaint has also been made of the brutal treatment accorded prisoners of war in the hands of the Bulgarians; according to the testimony of British prisoners who have lately returned from Bulgaria, some of the men were driven insane by the tortures deliberately inflicted on them. In one case a Greek was hung up by the feet and burned.

The Nurses' Survey.

The nurses' survey promises splendid results. This survey should not be confused with the enrollment campaign of the American Red Cross. The basic idea of the survey is to find and record every woman who has ever had any training in caring for the sick or wounded in order that intelligent appeals may be made to all parts of the country for help, both in the care of the military establishment and the civilian population. The survey will be equally important in that it will enable the Red Cross to make its appeals in an equitable manner as between different sections of the country.

French Girls In America.

Over 60 young French girls, the first of some 230 who have been chosen for scholarship at American universities, recently landed at one of our ports to take up the study in this country of American customs and ideals. As time goes on more will come to imbibe what they can of American ways and carry them back to France and teach them there among their own people. Millions of our citizens are in France now, assimilating many of the French ways of living to bring them back to America after the war. Both races are eager to learn more of the other. Their ideal is akin and though in a few particulars there is a wide dissimilarity in their habits and views, as they go on intermingling we may look for the time when even these differences will be lessened, bringing the two great republics into a closer and stronger alliance than ever could have been effected through diplomatic channels only.

Women For Railway Mail Clerks

Civil service examinations for railway mail clerks are to be held throughout the country Nov. 30, it is announced, and women will be admitted to them. Female applicants must be between 18 and 35 years of age, must be at least five feet two inches in height and have no physical defects. Only those over 21 years of age will be permitted on the road, it is said, and these sparingly. The others will be confined mainly to positions at terminal railway post-offices.

Mrs. Young Honored.

School authorities in Chicago honored the memory of Mrs. Ella Flagg Young by ordering the various school houses in the city to fly their flags at half mast. Mrs. Young died in Washington a few days ago, aged 73 years. All her life she was interested in educational work. She was a member of the Illinois State Board of Education for nearly a quarter of a century and also wrote several books on education.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO SURGICAL DRESSINGS WORKERS.

All workers in the Surgical Dressing class of the Red Cross, all graduates and others interested in the work, are earnestly requested to attend an important meeting to be held in the rooms at 2:30 o'clock this (Tuesday) afternoon.

This is to be one of the most important meetings of the year, and for that reason it is earnestly urged that all who are well and able to work come to the meeting. Don't neglect this call, as it is made in the interest of humanity and the Red Cross part in great work.

COMMITTEE TO BEGIN ON HISTORY OF BOURBON'S SOLDIERS

Mrs. W. T. Lafferty, Chairman of the Department of History, Kentucky Federation of Clubs, in September appointed the Woman's Club of North Middletown to the task of compiling data concerning the Bourbon county men in the service, and putting it in form by which a permanent record can be preserved. Mrs. Alice Smith Dickson and Mrs. John T. Collins were chosen by the North Middletown Club to perform this task.

Mrs. Faniebelle Sutherland, through the Council of Defense was, a little later, appointed County Historian. As her work is to include all the war work activities of the county, Mrs. Sutherland has given the history of the boys over entirely to Mrs. Dickson and Mrs. Collins, they having already begun the same work. The War Mother's Association, of which Mrs. R. B. Hutchcraft is State President, was also delegated to compile a history of the sons in the service. Since times are too strenuous to permit overlapping of work, the one committee will serve the three organizations.

Much information concerning the draftees can be obtained from the questionnaires at the court house, but there is nothing on file pertaining to the volunteers, or the men in the navy. It is greatly desired that the name of no men in the service be overlooked, therefore it is requested and urged if there is any information or assistance any person can render this committee, that it be carefully and voluntarily given. Phone either Mrs. Dickson or Mrs. Collins.

This is to be a record which will mean much to coming generations. When we consider the sacrifices our boys have made, and the glorious part they have played in the great world war, it seems the least we can do is to make some permanent record of their names and achievements. It must be remembered that not all the heroes are among the men who are "over there." They everyone wanted to go, and the greatest sacrifices have been made by those who never got away from the camps in the home land.

DRY! DRY! DRY! DRY! AFTER JUNE 30, 1919.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—President Wilson, at one minute to 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon, signed the bone-dry prohibition measure and thus made it a law.

After next June 30 no intoxicating liquors of any kind may be sold in this country for beverage purposes except for export, until such time as the President, by proclamation, declares demobilization completed. The amendment prohibits the importation into this country from the time the bill is approved by the President until the demobilization of the army is completed.

Unless the Presidential proclamation under the food control act is rescinded the prohibition amendment will affect only the manufacture of wine, for the brewing of beer ceases December 1 under the President's proclamation.

The manufacture of whiskey was stopped soon after the nation entered the war. Under the amendment the manufacture of wine will cease next May 1, and should brewing of beer be allowed to continue after December 1 it also would stop May 1 under the new law.

Prohibition leaders say the law insures permanent prohibition for the nation because the process of demobilization may take two years "and by that time the prohibition amendment will be ratified."

REAL ESTATE DEALS.

Mr. J. C. Masonheimer, of Paris, purchased Saturday a house and lot on Flanagan street, in Winchester, belonging to Mr. J. R. Broadhurst, for the reported price of $2,000. Mr. Broadhurst purchased a twenty-five acre farm of Mr. Clifton Fox, on the Ironworks pike, in Clark county and will move to it on March 1.

Mr. John Farris purchased last week of Hugh Alexander the triangular plot of ground on which his restaurant is located, near the Tenth street L. & N. passenger station, for $5,000. The terms of the transaction included the building occupied as a restaurant by Mr. Farris.

REMEMBER THE ORPHANS' HOME THANKSGIVING DAY.

As the war is over and God has spared our twenty-five boys and girls who were in the service to return that they may make useful citizens, let each of us attend Christian service on Thanksgiving Day, and return thanks to our Heavenly Father, and also, see that our wards at the Orphan Home at Lexington, Ky., are provided a royal good Thanksgiving dinner. All who can spare a turkey, chicken, meats, sacks of potatoes, apples, etc., please deliver to the undersigned by 10 o'clock to-morrow, (Wednesday) morning, Nov. 27, 1918. Remember there are 150 of the children of our deceased brothers. Don't fail.

BOURBON COUNTY SOLDIER WRITES A NOTABLE BOOK.

THE NEWS has been favored with a copy of an interesting work, written by Mr. Lot D. Young, of near North Middletown, entitled "Reminiscences of A Soldier of The Orphan Brigade." The book, which was published by the Courier-Journal Job Printing Co., at Louisville, is dedicated, in the words of the author, a distinguished Confederate soldier, "To those who wore the gray, their children, and their grandchildren." It also bears the following introductory commendation from the members of the Richard Hawes Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, of this city:

"The Richard Hawes Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy warmly recommends Lieut. Lot D. Young's 'Reminiscences of A Soldier of The Orphan Brigade,' as a most worthy addition to the literature of the South. It is an interesting recital of the author's personal experience and contains much valuable historic information. The Chapter recommends Lieut. Young a splendid Christian gentleman, a gallant Confederate soldier, to all lovers of history, and especially to the brave soldiers of the present war."

Beginning with his espousal of the Confederate cause, Mr. Young details in a realistic and most entertaining way the progress of the Orphan Brigade and tells of the many battle in which that famous organization participated. It is full of interest from cover to cover, and there is not a dull line in it. His description of the battle of Shiloh is a masterpiece of wordpainting.

The book is on sale at the Paris Book Co. It has been suggested that the parents and friends of the "boys" overseas could send them this book as a Christmas present as being one they would certainly appreciate. It would be more welcome now because of their inactivity than if they were actively engaged in campaigning. It is a martial message from a soldier of the past to those who have been engaged in fighting in the cause of freedom and liberty.

THE DAWN OF PEACE.

When the mantle of peace has been spread over battle-scarred Europe, we must plan for the future. Planning time is already here, and in any comprehensive scheme live stock must have a prominent place.

The International Live Stock Exposition is dedicated to the task of promoting improvement in horses, cattle, hogs and sheep. It is a business problem, with the essential admixture of sentiment. Only by active co-operation can peace problems be solved, and at the 1918 assemblage of breeders, feeders and farmers in Chicago the first week of December, these problems will be considered by men whose personal interests force them to keep abreast of times and coincidentally operate to the advantage of the whole community.

Peace problems are squarely up to leaders in every sphere of production. After-the-war business will lack every vestige of precedent. The fact that the 1918 International occurs during the armistice that precedes return to peace conditions, makes it peculiarly opportune for consideration of prospective conditions.

The brains of the live stock industry will gather at Chicago next month, giving the meeting unusual international importance in view of the responsibility for feeding devastated Europe, which is our national legacy of the strife of the past four years.

HOUSE TO OPEN SEASON DECEMBER 11.

The tobacco season of 1918-19 will be inaugurated in Paris on Wednesday, December 11, when the first sale will be held at the warehouse of the Independent Tobacco Warehouse Company, in South Paris. The warehouses will be open on Monday, December 9, for the reception of tobacco on the sales floors. The sale on Wednesday will begin promptly at nine o'clock, a. m., and continue until the lots are disposed of.

The Paris Tobacco Warehouse Company, of which Mr. Charles C. Clarke is President, and Mr. Dan W. Peed, Manager, disposed of a total of 3,285,545 pounds of tobacco during the season of 1917-1918, which brought a total of $1,002,237. This made the highest average of any tobacco warehouse in the State, a season average of $29.61. This house also scored the highest floor average for any one day, being $44.95, and also a crop lot for the highest price of any house on any market in the State, $56.60.

The Independent is prepared to take care of any offerings brought to the house, having one of the best-lighted and most thoroughly equipped floors of any house in the State. Prompt attention will be given all customers, and settlements will be made promptly, leaving everybody contented and satisfied. Take your tobacco to this house, Mr. Tobacco Man, if you desire to realize the best prices. Under able business management and with the assurance of right treatment the Independent ought to be the tobacco man's Mecca this winter.

FRUIT PITS AND SHELLS NOT NEEDED NOW.

Orders were received here by the Red Cross Society stating that the collection of fruit pits and nut shells should be discontinued.

The communication, which was from the Lake Division headquarters, in Cleveland, Ohio, stated that since the signing of the armistice with Germany the War Department feels that there is no need for gas masks or for the collection of pits and shells to obtain carbon for the masks.

The Boy Scouts, it was announced, will, in the near future, complete their work in the campaign by removing the patriotic boxes which had been placed in Paris business houses to receive the pits and shells.

ASKS DEMOBILIZATION OF KENTUCKY FARMERS FIRST

A recommendation that preference be shown agricultural workers in the demobilization and that 10,000 Kentucky Farmers, now in cantonments, be mustered out at once, has been forwarded by Maj. Henry F. Rhodes, chief selective service officer for Kentucky, to the Provost Marshal General at Washington, and he has been advised that the Adjutant General has the recommendation before him.

Maj. Rhodes said there are more than that many farmers at Camp Zachary Taylor. Some of them left their corn to be attended by others, if at all; some have tobacco crops which must be sold if they and their families are to be provisioned for another year.

In addition to this, tenant farmers must make arrangements for next year at once, so they can be ready early in the new year to prepare for their spring work.

If they are discharged late in the winter they will find it difficult, if not impossible, to get located.

Since food for the starving people of Europe is the principal consideration, now that the war is over, Maj. Rhodes said it seems of utmost importance that there should be an abundance of farm labor available without delay.

THINGS TO WORRY ABOUT

Hoover, the man who has reduced our food allowance to a starvation point, says that we may not expect a decrease in the price of food for a long time. This is pretty tough, but we can eat our costly allowance now with better grace, since we are assured that there is a good time coming when the demands of the stomach can be fully gratified.

THE RABBIT MARKET

Rabbits are retailing at twenty-five cents each with not many on the market. There is reported a scarcity of "bunnies" throughout the county, which usually furnishes much sport for the hunters.

In many counties the rabbits are reported dying from some unknown disease, and, as a result, consumers are afraid to buy them unless they know they have been killed in the usual way. A few years ago the rabbits were almost exterminated by a disease resembling the "foot-and-mouth" plague, which was then prevailing in almost epidemic form by the humans and animals.

LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE ESTABLISHES "DEAD LINE."

A "dead line" has been established by the Louisville & Nashville, at the Tenth street passenger station, as a warning to passengers waiting for trains, not to get too near the platform edge. The "dead line" is a broad red painted line about three feet from the edge of the platform. This is intended to guard passengers from getting too close to incoming or outgoing trains.

Damage suits amounting to thousands of dollars against the company have often been filed when the accidents were the result of carelessness on the part of people crowding the platform edge or standing too close to the tracks.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

Don't forget that next Thursday, November 28, will be Thanksgiving Day. The banks and postoffice will be closed, and probably most of the business houses. The rural mail carriers will not go out on their routes, but one delivery and one collection will be made in the business and residence districts. The general delivery and stamp windows at the postoffice will be open from 11:30 to 12:30 p. m. No business will be transacted in the money order or registry department.

In accordance with the proclamations issued by President Wilson and Gov. Stanley the people are asked to observe the day as one of restfulness and prayer, in thankfulness for our victorious armies and those of the Allies, and for the prospect of world peace, just dawning again over the late scenes of bloodshed and strife.

WHY DO YOU PAY RENT?

Probably it appears to you to be the easiest way to get along—it is certainly easy for the landlord. You are making him a present of the house in which you live every few years, for in reality you are buying and paying for a home, but never receive the deed for it.

By taking advantage of the Bourbon Building & Loan Association's system of loaning money you will only have to pay for your home once, and the house will be yours while you do it, as you will be paying the rent to yourself.

We offer you the opportunity in our new series which opens Saturday, December 7.

THANKSGIVING AT WINDSOR.

The Windsor Hotel will serve a six-o'clock dinner Thanksgiving Day at fifty cents per plate. All the delicacies of the season.

FATHER OF PARIS VISITOR LIKE-LY McADOO'S SUCCESSOR.

The resignation of William G. McAdoo as Secretary of the Treasury and Director-General of Railways has brought into the public eye as his possible successor in the former capacity Representative Glass, of Virginia, whose daughter, Miss Augusta Glass, has been a frequent visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Swift Champ, in this city.

Friends of Mr. Glass say that he has the reputation of being a close student and a constructive thinker on financial subjects and for executive ability in a number of private enterprises. Representative Glass, who is Chairman of the House Banking and Currency Committee, is known to be under consideration by several of President Wilson's closest advisers. He is now in France as a member of one of the war commissions sent to that country by the Government. His daughter, Miss Glass, will be a guest of Mrs. Champ again next summer.

NO NEW DEVELOPMENTS IN THE INFLUENZA SITUATION

With no new cases developing in the past two days, and a general clearing up here the influenza situation presents nothing of material value in a news sense. Dr. A. H. Keller, City Health Officer, stated yesterday that the situation here was generally very satisfactory, and that the ban would continue, however, until there was not the least suspicion of danger. He held a conference with Rev. George R. Combs regarding the situation, and the possibility of having a service at the Opera House or in the court house on Thanksgiving Day, and decided it would be better not to take chances as yet in permitting public gatherings.

SWEATER YARN RECEIVED

Miss Ranah Owens has received one thousand pounds of sweater yarn, and the same is now ready to be given out to those desiring and willing to knit sweaters. The women of Bourbon county have been asked to knit several thousand garments by the last of January for the soldiers, many of whom will be sent to Siberia and Russia this winter. They will need warm, comfortable clothing for the climate.

MAKE THANKSGIVING DAY APPROPRIATE ONE.

Never in the history of the world have the American people had greater cause for returning thanks to God than they have this year. With the closing of the world-war, and the prospect of established peace, there is ample cause for returning thanks. The people of Paris and Bourbon county will join in with the patriotic people of America next Thursday in returning thanks for manifold blessings.

Praise for the goodness of God is never out of place and never unreasonable, but it will be especially appropriate on this Thanksgiving Day, the day set apart by official appointment to notice the mercies that have been bestowed upon us, the blessings which we have enjoyed, the kind interpositions that have been made in our behalf, the bounties which have been bestowed upon us in order that we may render again to God thanks for all His benefits with festive joy and heartfelt thankfulness. The presence of the influenza plague and the absence from their accustomed places of many members of the household who are either "over here" or "over there" in the service, adds a tinge of sadness and regretfulness to the day, but we will have so much to be thankful for in the near prospect of peace that we can afford to accept with resignation the temporary troubles of the present.

We may welcome this annual Thanksgiving Day with the added interest which venerable customs has thrown around it, with the pleasing memories which early associations weave about our former celebrations of it with the recollection of absent friends and relatives who have shared it with us, and hail its advent as a day of sacred and social joy. It should be observed with happy hearts and cheerful voices, and for the time at least the voice of sorrow should be hushed and the fear of grief restrained, while full scope is given to all the kindlier emotions of our natures. Let us crowd into its flying hours the pleasant memories of the past, the fairest prospects of the future, and make it a bright and glorious day.

Let us make it as far as we can and under the present circumstances, a day of grateful rejoicing, and, while we partake freely of the bounties of the year, give loose rein to the sweet sympathies of humanity and dispense with a liberal hand and a benevolent spirit to those that have need of it, so that the voice of gladness may be heard in every dwelling in Paris. In imitation of the time-honored custom of our fathers and in obedience to the language of the Scriptures, let us "eat the fat and drink the sweet and send portions to them for whom nothing is prepared."

It is fortunate that the world cannot discern the hidden things of the heart. There we can store our grief to ponder over it at our leisure and give to the world only the smile a beneficent Providence may impart to our souls and that will strengthen us to sing a hymn of Thanksgiving. While sorrow for those who are absent over the seas, or in the camps may reign within, yet may peace and hope and confiding trust surround every reader of this column. May the boys in the camps in this country and in Europe have their share, too, of the comforts and goodness of the day!

ITALY AND THE WAR.

The fall of Austria—what a triumph! From the point of view of Italy's victory the story is all the more miraculous. The congratulations showered upon Count V. Macchi di Cellere, Italy's democratic ambassador, were many and real. The Italian Embassy has become the center of about the liveliest interest in Washington, and there are no indications that there were times in the past when Italy's contributions to the allied cause were not accorded as great appreciation as now. Now that the arms of our gallant Southern ally have been crowned with victory, and her great General Diaz has received the surrender of the Austrian forces, we are paying a deserved—if somewhat belated—tribute to the sacrifices, courage and withal, magnificent prowess in the arts of war.

Though prosperous when the war broke out Italy had the smallest population and the most limited resources. Her manufactures were expanding. Her army was not well equipped. The country was short of mineral resources, especially coal and iron. Despite these limitations Italy has occupied a place of first importance in the struggle from the very outset. Even before she entered the war her declaration of neutrality permitted the withdrawal of French troops from the Italian border, and thus contributed to the strength of the French, and helped to make possible the first battle of the Marne.

Italy's Sacrifices.

Italy has called to the colors not less than 5,500,000 men, and has suffered the loss of almost 1,500,000 of them. Of that loss nearly 350,000 died in battle, and 100,000 from disease. Over 550,000 are totally incapacitated, either by blindness, loss of limb or tuberculosis. At the present moment the strength of the Italian army is 4,025,000, including the class of men born in 1900, who have been called to the colors recently. It may be said, then, that the nation's man-power has suffered a permanent loss of nearly a million. Serious as is this loss, Italy has inflicted an even greater punishment upon the foe. In Austrian prisoners alone she has taken 174,385, of whom 4,439 are officers. The Austrian loss in killed and wounded is, of course, unknown to us; but even the most conservative estimates make it far greater than ours. In the last offensive on the Piave alone over 200,000 Austrian dead were left on the field. It is a piece of well-merited good fortune that Italy has been able to strike one of the most spectacular decisive blows of the war. The debacle of the Austrians capped one of the climaxes of the war. The surrender of the Austrians capped one of the climaxes of the war. These utterances of the Austrians to General Diaz on the battlefield carried with it an even greater suggestion of a complete defeat than the request of the other Hun allies for an armistice. Even going back further than this, we are reminded by a military reviewer that the retreat of the Germans on the western front really began with the retreat of the Austrians behind the Piave before the bayonets of the intrepid Italians.

Overcome Serious Difficulties.

Let us not forget that out of 36,000,000 inhabitants of Italy at the beginning of the war only 17,000,000 were males, of whom only 9,000,000 were adults economically productive. After the army was mobilized only 100 adults remained in each town or village to provide for some 320 children below the age of fifteen. Francis H. Sisson, Vice President of the Guaranty Trust Company, of New York, points out that the pre-eminence of Italy in the production of certain articles of commerce made her the chief source of supply for similar products of a war-like nature. The Italian automobile, aeroplane, turbine and heavy oil engine became prominent factors in supplying the allied armies with these war necessities at critical periods. In an admirable editorial the New York Evening Sun puts the situation: "So, England, we are proud to think America, have aided Italy in her gigantic effort. But each of the Allies has a field especially its own. And the blood-stained plains of the Venetian province and the snowy peaks of the Trentino are the special theatre of Italy's valor and of Italy's renown. All the Ally world, all Christendom, pays tribute to King Victor Emmanuel, to General Diaz, to the Italian people, and prays that their sufferings and their success may have centuries of fruition in the prosperity, peace and progress of their completely reunified country." And this adequately expresses the opinion of Washington, official and unofficial.

WHAT THE CIVILIAN RELIEF IS DOING.

"Fifty miles from a 'wire' station, five miles from a telephone," writes Shelby D. Watts, Red Cross Home Service field agent, to James L. Fieser, Lake Division Director of Civilian Relief.

Mr. Watts, besides carrying, visiting and organizing Home Service sections in Red Cross chapters, is doing Home Service work in the untraveled mountains of Kentucky wherever he finds afflicted families.

His last report to headquarters, besides the usual statistics reads:

"There are only some five hundred people now sick with the 'flu' in this district. About a half dozen families have no one to give medicine or care for them at all—every member of the family being down. I cared for a family of eight to-day, all bed-fast. I gave medicine, cooked potatoes, boiled or coddled soft-boiled eggs, washed dishes, cleaned up generally, cut wood, built the fire, nursed the baby and milked two cows, riding home five miles in the dark over creeks and mountains. The horse went some, too.

"This is a sample of the work needed to be done, but every man here has a job nursing his family or relatives or neighbors."

The Military Relief Department of the American Red Cross is to have a representative and a staff at each of the General Hospitals now being opened throughout the country for sick and disabled soldiers.

In the Lake Division Red Cross territory these hospitals are to be located at the Cincinnati East High School, at the Deaf and Dumb Institute at Columbus, the Richman Bros. model factory at Cleveland, the State Hospital at Lima and at the former health resort hotel at West Baden, Indiana.

Edward B. Green, director of the Red Cross Department of Military Relief in the Lake Division, is authority for the statement that the Red Cross will have a staff at each of the above institutions.

"These staffs," says Mr. Greene, "will largely parallel, in their make-up and activities, the staffs that we now have and have had for months at all the big military training camps in this country. The size of the staff will vary, but it is quite likely that for a hospital of 1,500 beds we will have a field director, an assistant field director, two or three associate directors and one of two stenographers.

"Our field director at each hospital is to have charge of all activities of outside organizations that wish to volunteer their services for hospital work. It goes without saying, however, that these Red Cross field directors will be responsible to the commanding officers of the hospitals and will neither plan nor permit activities which do not meet with the complete approval of the commanding officers.

"The staff men will attend to such details as communication and visiting, and we will be prepared to furnish emergency supplies upon requisition just as we had the opportunity to do in a big way during the recent epidemic of influenza."

RED-CROSS BEDS FOR REFUGEES.

A few months ago one of the biggest problems confronting the Red Cross was to find enough beds for the refugees in France. In spite of many ingenious schemes thousands of refugees were sleeping on hard floors.

So the Red Cross went into the bed-making business. In Bordeaux, Lyons and Toulouse, situated in the timber regions and railroad centers for large areas in which thousands of refugees are living, arrangements were made to manufacture at once a special Red Cross bed which is strong, practical, good-looking and, including the springs, costs only five dollars. STEADIER HOG MARKETS PLANNED

Hog Producers and Packers Confer With Representatives of the Food Administration and Agricultural Department and Adopt New Plan of Regulation.

In accordance with the policy of the Food Administration since its foundation to consult representative men in the agricultural industry on occasions of importance to special branches of the industry, on October 24 there was convened in Washington a meeting of the Live Stock Subcommittee of the Agricultural Advisory Board and the special members representing the swine industry to consider the situation in the hog market.

The conference lasted for three days, and during this time met with the executive committee of the fifty packing firms participating in foreign orders for pork products and with the members of the Food Administration directing foreign pork purchases.

The conclusions of the conference were as follows:

The entire marketing situation has so changed since the September joint conference as to necessitate an entire alteration in the plans of price stabilization. The current peace talk has alarmed the holders of corn, and there has been a price decline of from 25 cents to 40 cents per bushel. The fact that the accumulations of low priced corn in the Argentine and South Africa would, upon the advent of peace and liberated shipping, become available to the European market has created a great deal of apprehension on the part of corn holders. This decline has spread fear among swine growers that a similar reduction in the prices of hogs would naturally follow. Moreover, the lower range of corn prices would, if incorporated in a 13-to-1 ratio, obviously result in a continuously falling price for live hogs. In view of these changed conditions many swine producers anticipated lower prices and as a result rushed their hogs to market in large numbers, and this overshipment has added to and aggravated the decline.

The information of the Department of Agriculture indicates that the supply of hogs has increased about 8 per cent., while the highest unofficial estimate does not exceed 15 per cent. Increased production over last year. On the other hand, the arrival of hogs during the last three weeks in the seven great markets has been 27 per cent. more than last year, during the corresponding period, demonstrating the unusually heavy marketing of the available supply. In the face of the excessive receipts some packers have not maintained the price agreed last month. On the other hand, many of the packers have paid over the price offered to them in an endeavor to maintain the agreed price. The result in any event has been a failure to maintain the October price basis determined upon at the September conference and undertaken by the packers. Another factor contributing to the break in prices during the month has been the influenza epidemic; it has sharply curtailed consumption of pork products and temporarily decreased the labor staff of the packers about 25 per cent.

The exports of 130,000,000 pounds of pork products for October compared with about 52,000,000 pounds in October a year ago, and the export orders placeable by the Food Administration for November, amount to 170,000,000 pounds as contrasted with the lesser exports of 98,000,000 for November, 1917. The increased demands of the allies are continuing, and are in themselves proof of the necessity for the large production for which the Food Administration asked. The increase in export demands appears to be amply sufficient to take up the increase in hog production, but unfavorable market conditions existing in October afford no fair index of the aggregate supply and demand.

It must be evident that the enormous shortage in fats in the Central Empires and neutral countries would immediately upon peace result in additional demands for pork products which, on top of the heavy shipments to the Allies, would tend materially to increase the American exports, inasmuch as no considerable reservoir of supplies exists outside of the United States. It seems probable that the present prospective supplies would be inadequate to meet this world demand with the return to peace. So far as it is possible to interpret this fact, it appears that there should be even a stronger demand for pork products after the war, and therefore any alarm of hog producers as to the effect of peace is unwarranted by the outlook.

In the light of these circumstances it is the conclusion of the conference that attempts to hold the price of hogs to the price of corn may work out to the disadvantage of pork producers. It is the conclusion that any interpretation of the formula should be a broad gauged policy applied over a long period. It is the opinion of the conference that in substitution of the previous plans of stabilization the Live Stock Subcommittee of the Agricultural Advisory Board, together with the specially invited swine representatives, should accept the invitation of the Food Administration to join with the Administration and the packers in determining the prices at which controlled export orders are to be placed. This will be regularly done. The influence of these orders will be directed to the maintenance of the common object—namely, the stabilization of the price of live hogs so as to secure as far as it is possible fair returns to the producer and the insurance of an adequate future supply.

These foreign orders are placed upon the basis of cost of hogs to the packers.

As the result of long negotiations between this body and the Packers' Committee, representing the 45 to 50 packers participating in foreign orders, together with the Allied buyers, all under the Chairmanship of the Food Administration, the following undertaking has been given by the packers:

In view of the undertakings on the part of the Food Administration with regard to the co-ordinated purchases of pork products, covered in the attached, it is agreed that the packers participating in these orders will undertake not to purchase hogs for less than the following agreed minimums for the month of November, that is a daily minimum of $17.50 per hundred pounds on average of packers' droves, excluding throw-outs. "Throw-outs" to be defined as pigs under 130 pounds, stags, boars, thin sows and skips. Further that no hogs of any kind shall be bought, except throw-outs, at less than $18.50 per hundred pounds. The average of packers' droves to be construed as the average of the total sales in the market of all hogs for a given day. All the above to be based on Chicago.

We agree that a committee shall be appointed by the Food Administration to check the daily operations in the various markets with a view to supervision and demonstration of the carrying out of the above.

The ability of the packers to carry out this arrangement will depend on there being a normal marketing of hogs based upon the proportionate increase over the receipts of last year. The increase in production appears to be a maximum of about 15 per cent. and we can handle such an increase.

If the producers of hogs should, as they have in the past few weeks, prematurely market hogs in such increasing numbers over the above it is entirely beyond the ability of the packers to maintain these minimums, and therefore we must have the co-operation of the producer himself to maintain these results. It is a physical impossibility for the capacity of the packing houses to handle a similar over-flood of hogs and to find a market for the output. The packers are anxious to co-operate with the producers in maintaining a stabilization of price and to see that producers receive a fair price for their products.

(Signed) THOS. E. WILSON,
Chairman Packers' Committee.

The plan embodied above was adopted by the conference.

The Food Administrator has appointed a committee, comprising Mr. Thomas E. Wilson, chairman of the Packers' Committee; Mr. Everett Brown, president of the Chicago Livestock Exchange; Major Roy of the Food Administration, Mr. Louis D. Hall of the Bureau of Markets, to undertake the supervision of the execution of the plan in the various markets. Commission men are asked to co-operate in carrying out the plan embodied in the packers' agreement. It must be evident that offers by commission men to sell hogs below the minimum established above is not fair, either to the producer or the participating packers. Mr. Brown has undertaken on behalf of the commission men in the United States that they will loyally support the plan.

It is believed by the conference that this new plan, based as it is upon a positive minimum basis, will bring better results to the producer than average prices for the month. It does not limit top prices and should narrow the margins necessary to country buyers in more variable markets. It is believed that the plan should work out close to $18 average.

Swine producers of the country will contribute to their own interest by not flooding the market, for it must be evident that if an excessive overpercentage of hogs is marketed in any one month price stabilization and control cannot succeed, and it is certain that producers themselves can contribute materially to the efforts of the conferences if they will do their marketing in as normal a way as possible.

The whole situation as existing at present demands a frank and explicit assurance from the conferees represented—namely, that every possible effort will be made to maintain a live hog price commensurate with swine production costs and reasonable selling values in execution of the declared policy of the Food Administration to use every agency in its control to secure justice to the farmer.

The stabilization methods adopted for November represent the best efforts of the conference, concurred in by the Food Administration and the

How Domestic Consumers Can Save Gas

DON'T burn lamps in daytime.

DON'T keep hot water tank flame higher than necessary.

DON'T turn gas on for cooking until you have vessel ready for use; turn off immediately when cooking is completed.

DON'T use gas at high pressure and long flames. Short flames, if properly directed, consume less gas for the same cooking operation.

DON'T turn the gas high after cooking boils. After boiling begins, the same temperature can be maintained with smaller gas consumption.

DON'T keep rooms at over 68 degrees; lower temperature by turning down gas, not by opening doors and windows.

TAYLOR.

—The funeral of Mr. Duncan Taylor, aged thirty-eight, who died at Lake Saranac, New York, about twelve o'clock Thursday night, was held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with services conducted at the grave in the Paris Cemetery by Rev. W. E. Ellis, pastor of the Paris Christian church.

The pall-bearers were Duncan Bell, James Chambers, George Stuart, Robert L. Frank, Steele Marsh and Wm. R. Blakemore.

Mr. Taylor was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Taylor, both of whom preceded him to the grave some years ago. He was a brother of Mr. William Taylor and Mr. Louis Taylor, both of Paris. Mr. Taylor was for many years a shoe salesman in Paris, where he was highly regarded, his genial disposition making for him a host of friends. After leaving Paris he located in Oklahoma City, Okla., where he was in business until declining health forced him to retire. He came to Paris a few months ago to recuperate, but his health continuing to grow worse, he went to Lake Saranac, New York, where "it was hoped he would be benefited by the change of climate. But the dread disease that fastened upon his system could not be overcome, and the end came Thursday night, being hastened by an attack of influenza. His brothers, Wm. and Louis Taylor, were summoned Wednesday by telegram, but arrived at Lake Saranac several hours after his death.

Mr. Taylor was twice married, both wives preceding him to the grave several years ago. He is survived by one daughter, Miss Winifred Taylor, who resides with her grandparents, at Fort Scott, Kansas; two brothers, William and Louis Taylor, of Paris. He was a nephew of Mrs. George R. Bell and Mrs. Jas. K. Ford, of Paris, and Capt. Ed. Taylor, of Lexington.

RELIGIOUS.

—The Pastor's Aid Society of the Paris Presbyterian church will sew at the Red Cross rooms to-day. A full attendance of all the members is requested.

—The children of the Christian church who have agreed to contribute toward a fund for the adoption of a French war orphan, through Mrs. George W. Clay and Mrs. S. E. McClanahan, are asked to bring their offering to one of these ladies within this week. The amount required for the support is $36.50, and it is necessary to have this sum in hand by December 1.

IN MEMORIAM.

One of nature's noble women, Dorothy Lee Paynter, passed to the bourne from which no traveler returneth, on Tuesday, Nov. 19, in Cincinnati, Ohio.

I have known this sweet girl from childhood and have watched her growth into glorious young womanhood, and I can truthfully say that I have never known a truer, lovelier character. I have never known her to say an unkind word or to commit an unkind deed. She was truly a thorough Christian in every way.

About four years ago she chose as her calling the noble profession of nursing, and in that length of time has soothed and administered to many sick and suffering, and borne comfort to many sorrowful hearts. She was always ready with a kind word and cheerful smile to help the wayfarers along the weary pathway of life, always ready to bear another's troubles, and to make the "burden lighter." God saw fit to take her from us in the very flower of her youth, but how thankful we are that He saved her all suffering and lulled her to sleep like a little, tired child in its mother's arms.

My heart goes out to the stricken mother and family, for she was the youngest born and the idol of the whole household, and her absence makes a void that can never be filled, not only in the family circle, but among her dear friends as well. This is his second bereavement in the past three weeks, the father having passed away on November 3. But how comforting it is to know that ere this they have had a happy reunion above. Still another consoling thought is that when life's fitful fever is over and that when God opens the gates of Heaven to us, we know that our dear Dorothy will be standing with the rest of our loved ones that have gone before, and be ready to greet us with her bright, sweet smile when we enter the home of our Father above.

STANDARD HOGSHEAD FOR TOBACCO SUGGESTED.

In order to permit full utilization of equipment in the shipment of tobacco from Kentucky and other producing States, a plan for the adoption of a so-called "standard hogshead," which will allow double tiering in freight cars used for this purpose, is being worked out by Director-General McAdoo in conjunction with the War Industries Board, according to the announcement made in Washington.

Under the proposed arrangement, instead of requiring 50,000 cars to move 1,500,000 pounds of tobacco, probably the same amount can be transported in 32,000 cars by use of the "standard containers."

Under the present system tobacco to be used in the manufacture of cigarettes, chewing and smoking tobacco moves in hogsheads 48 by 52 inches, 48 by 56 inches or 48 by 60 inches, which does not permit of full utilization of equipment. An effort is now being made to have adopted a standard hogshead of 46 by 48 inches.

UNCLE SAM'S POLICE FORCE

Keeping order in Europe, now that the war is ended, is going to be the biggest police job this old world has ever known.

But it will have to be done. For there are about 10,000,000 fellows scattered about the continent right now who have acquired the fighting habit these last five years. They were getting tired of the big game before it ended, but this doesn't mean that they would hesitate to mix it up over their own little differences.

Take the Balkans for instance. They have been a hotbed of disturbance for years. The immediate pretext for this war developed there. And their old-time animosities and jealousies have not been wiped out by their recent experiences. They are liable to flare out again at any moment.

Then there is the big question of Russia. There are millions of former serfs still drunk with the wine of newfound freedom. They have pillaged and plundered and killed without restraint for months. The whole nation is still seething. And order must be restored there before any permanent and rational government can be established.

And just what Turkey will have to offer to the complication of affairs in general is yet to be developed.

There are some pretty long beats to be patrolled in this police job. It's a long, long way from Vladivostok to Petrograd; from Petrograd to Bagdad, and from the Holy Land to that near neighbor to hell, Berlin.

It looks like a big lot of Uncle Sam's soldier boys might be kept in Europe for many months to come. And they will have to be maintained adequately.

Inevitably it means another Liberty Loan at least. It may mean two. In any event it means that we must get ready to buy more bonds.
